The screenshot shows a mobile browser interface with the URL <http://www.lougheed.com/learning/>. The page title is "The Leading Authority in Test Preparation". The navigation menu includes HOME, BOOKS, LEARNING (highlighted), ABOUT, and CONTACT. A large speech bubble graphic contains a computer monitor icon and the word "LEARNING".

Under the "LEARNING" section, there are three main items:

- Free Activities, Tips, and Audio
 - Grammar: How to Form Plural Nouns
 - Grammar: Nouns as Adjectives
 - Grammar: Used To
 - Tips: Test Prep Tips
 - Vocabulary: In Context
- Community Classroom

In the Community Classroom you can post your TOEFL and IELTS essays. Students and teachers can make comments on these essays. These comments will help you improve your writing skills. Click here to enter Dr. Lougheed's Google+ page and post your essays. To participate please add Dr. Lougheed to your circles.
- iPad App: Comparative Audio

Comparative Audio is an iPad app that allows you to play audio files from Dr. Lougheed's IELTS, TOEFL, and TOEIC books. Comparative Audio is like having your own private language lab to listen and to record. For more information or to buy, click here to purchase the Comparative Audio iPad app. You can use this unique tool to practice English and to improve your pronunciation and intonation.

Free Audio Samples to use with Comparative Audio

Under "Free Audio Samples to use with Comparative Audio" the text Stream or Download file is seen under the title. Tap on the file you want to download. It will download and start playing with the built-in media player. However, if you KEEP your finger on the text, an option window will open. (See next slide.)
